

STATES SHIFT IN WILSON'S FAVOR

President-Elect Takes Illinois Safely from Roosevelt, Barely Holds California, Chief Progressive Stronghold.

POPULAR VOTE COMING IN

Only Four States Complete, but Estimates Show Winner, Despite an Overwhelming Electoral Vote, Did Not Get a Majority.

COLONEL FINISHES SECOND

Apparently Has 29 Per Cent of Total Vote, to Taft's 26 Per Cent, but Complete Canvass May Shift This Ratio—Socialists and "Drys" Gaining Steadily.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—At 10 o'clock Wilson's plurality over Roosevelt in the state had been reduced to 99 votes. The figures were: 4,238 precincts out of 4,372, Wilson 280,426; Roosevelt, 280,327. Four precincts from Los Angeles County contributed toward this change.

Doubt as to the Presidential vote winner in three important states—Illinois, California and Minnesota—was the feature of the election analysis yesterday. That question overshadowed the interest in the popular vote tables, which for the first time began to take something near accurate form.

At midnight it seemed certain that Woodrow Wilson had a safe lead over Colonel Roosevelt in Illinois, and that the third term candidate might regain his running mate's state, California, by a scant margin. Minnesota was safely in the Roosevelt column. Wyoming still hung between the President and Wilson, with the advantage in Wilson's favor. Kansas seemed assured to the Democrats by a five figure plurality.

The shifts in the electoral votes now give Wilson 426 practically certain; Roosevelt, 72, and Taft surely 17, with possibly three more from Wyoming.

Wilson Not Popular Choice.

Such figures as are obtainable on the popular vote indicate plainly that Wilson will not get a majority of the total number cast. Four states have tabulated their votes—Connecticut, Georgia, New Hampshire and Vermont. In many states the popular vote has been only roughly estimated thus far, but the reports indicate that the combined vote of Roosevelt and Taft will be approximately 1,000,000 more than the vote for Governor Wilson.

The figures will be materially changed by the final count, but it is expected that the proportion for each candidate will not vary greatly. The preliminary count gives Wilson approximately 45 per cent of the vote; Roosevelt, 29 per cent, and Taft, 26 per cent. The total vote thus far reported is less than in 1908, while the official returns are expected to bring it above those figures. In 1908, out of a combined vote of 14,030,858 cast for Taft and Bryan, President Taft received more than 54 per cent.

Many States Republican.

More complete figures available show that many states which gave their electoral votes to Wilson remain loyal to the Republican party. New Hampshire, for instance, will have a Republican Legislature, which will elect a Governor and a United States Senator as well. In Tennessee the Republicans and Independent Democrats will hold the Legislature and name either an Independent Democrat or a Republican for the Senate. In Nebraska the Democratic Legislature is compelled to elect

ENTIRE COUNTY FOR TAFT

Every Voter in Texas Region Favored the President.

(By Telegram to The Tribune.)
Austin, Tex., Nov. 7.—It is believed that Zapata County, far down on the Rio Grande border, is the champion Taft county of the United States. There were 375 votes cast in the county at the election on Tuesday, and every one of them was for Taft Presidential electors.

Four years ago the same county cast a solid vote for Taft. The counties adjoining it are almost solidly Democratic. All but five voters in Zapata County are Mexican-American citizens.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR 17.

Sebastopol, Nov. 7.—The naval court has sentenced seventeen sailors to death and 106 to imprisonment for four to eight years at hard labor for instigating mutinies in the Russian fleet.

DEMOCRATS TO OUST ALL REPUBLICANS IN ALBANY

Four Hundred Officeholders in Exempt Class to Go When Sulzer Takes Reins.

"EVERYTHING IN SIGHT"
Cuvillier Says All Jobs from $50 a Month Up Will Be Taken—Women Won't Be Spared.

(By Telegram to The Tribune.)

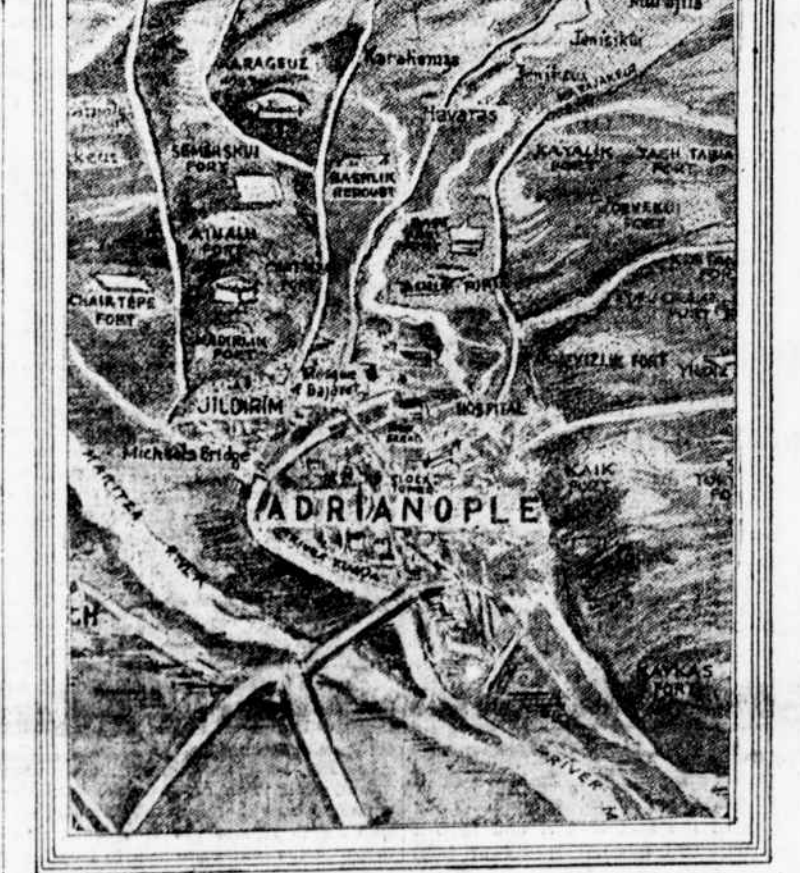

Albany, Nov. 7.—In the state service to-day there are 874 persons holding exempt positions. About four hundred of them are Republicans who have been in the state service for years, but they are doomed to go as soon as it can be arranged after William Sulzer takes the oath of office on January 1. Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, who has been in Albany for the last few days trying to persuade Governor Dix to appoint a successor to Major General John F. O'Ryan, says so, and reports which have been going around the Capitol since Election Day lead to the belief that the Assemblyman knows what he is talking about.

"Yes, sir, we are going to clean 'em all out," he said, and admitted that he didn't care whether he was quoted or not.

"To the victors belong the spoils. That principle will be carried out this time," declared Mr. Cuvillier. "We're going to give the Democrats the jobs, and we'll give good government to the Republicans."

According to Mr. Cuvillier, the Democrats intend to take everything in sight, from $50 a month jobs up, and not even the women are to be spared.

"But we won't interfere with any

MOOSE FORCED TO RETIRE

Case in National Museum Collapses Suddenly.

Washington, Nov. 7.—A big glass case in the National Museum containing the group of moose that has been a feature of the collection for many years and suddenly broke to-day, and the moose will go into retirement until a new case can be obtained. The group, one of the most valuable of the mounted animal exhibits, consists of a bull moose and five smaller animals.

Why the case which protected the exhibit broke is a mystery, but the museum officials smilingly denied that they entertained any suspicion that the election returns had anything to do with it.

In the hall with the moose exhibit are valuable mounts contributed by Colonel Roosevelt on returning from his African hunt.

BEATS BOSTON TEA PARTY

More than 1,500 Bottles of Beer Thrown Overboard.

(By Telegram to The Tribune.)

Boston, Nov. 7.—The water in Boston Harbor was swelled to-day by 1,532 bottles of beer which were thrown overboard from a scow by United States Deputy Marshal Ruhl. The destruction of the beer was ordered by Judge Morton, of the United States District Court, on a proceeding of United States District Attorney French.

In behalf of the federal pure food authorities a bill of information had been filed in the court alleging that the bottles containing the beer were mislabeled.

The shipment was made from Brooklyn. The labels represented the beer to be two well known brands, which the government showed was not true.

BRYAN WARD TRIES TO DIE

Bride of Three Weeks Turns on Gas—Accuses Husband.

(By Telegram to The Tribune.)

Omaha, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Edith Elliott, a bride of three weeks and a ward of William J. Bryan, attempted suicide at her room in Omaha last night because of alleged infidelity on the part of her husband. Mrs. Elliott stopped up the keyhole and opened the gas jets. She will recover.

Mrs. Elliott was left an orphan some years ago, and Mr. Bryan was made her guardian. She will inherit a third part of $100,000. Three weeks ago the girl married a waiter in a restaurant and came to Omaha from Lincoln. She left a note accusing her husband.

ADRIANOPLE FALLS; BULGARS CONCEAL NEWS, IS REPORT

Bucharest Dispatch to London Says Invaders Fear Europe Will Intervene if Fact Is Known.

SURRENDERED ON TUESDAY

King Ferdinand's Army Determined to Possess Constantinople Before Beginning Negotiations for Peace.

BIG BATTLE IN PROGRESS

Ambassadors of the Powers Cause Entrenchments To Be Thrown Up Between the Tchataldja Lines and the Turkish Capital.

(By Cable to The Tribune.)

London, Nov. 8.—"The Daily Mail" publishes the following from a correspondent, dated Bucharest, Thursday, 8:30 p. m.:

"I have just arrived from Sofia, and have grounds for believing that Adrianople has fallen, but that the Bulgarians are concealing the fact lest the powers, realizing that a decisive point has been reached in the war, should intervene before the capture of Constantinople.

"Extraordinary endeavors have been made since Monday to prevent the news from getting out. Nothing has been issued officially in Sofia except banalities, and the censorship has been extended to all letters.

"At Rustchuk, on the frontier, the censorship is rigid.

"I understand that the Adrianople garrison, being hopelessly steel encircled and having failed in all its attempted sorties, offered to surrender on Monday on condition that the garrison might march out with the honors of war.

"This was refused and the bombardment was continued.

"The entire garrison surrendered unconditionally on Tuesday.

"Meanwhile, with the utmost energy and haste, an overwhelming force is being concentrated with the object of destroying the last Turkish army and occupying Constantinople, so that any intervention by the powers will follow an accomplished fact.

"The Bulgarians are determined to possess the Turkish capital. All of their available troops are being rushed to the front from Macedonia, including even Serbian troops.

"The Bulgarian losses hitherto have been enormous. Trains throughout Bulgaria are filled, the least severely wounded being sent to their homes, but all their sacrifices will be repaid by their great final coup."

At the Tchataldja Lines.

Between the Bulgarian army and Constantinople now stand only the Tchataldja forts, which are held by an army that has suffered a series of crushing defeats, and that has been rendered, it is believed in military circles, incapable of making any sustained defense against a vigorous assault. Some villages in the vicinity of this last line of defense are reported already to be in the hands of the Bulgarians.

The commanders of the Bulgarian invaders are said to have fixed Sunday next as the day on which they will enter the Turkish capital with their troops and hold a service of thanksgiving in the Mosque of St. Sophia.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria is credited in some quarters with the intention of proclaiming himself in Constantinople Emperor of the Balkans.

News was very meagre yesterday from the line of forts at Tchataldja, on which the eyes of the world are turned. It is thought, however, that the last big battle is in progress along the line which the Turks once believed to be impregnable, but on which little resistance can now be placed by them.

On the contrary a Constantinople dispatch sets forth the Turkish claim that there are no Bulgarians before Tchataldja and that both armies are resting. The Turkish reports regarding the progress of the war, however, have been so consistently misleading as to have little value.

To Stem Routed Army.

Preparations are being made for the protection of the menaced population of Constantinople, and at the request of the foreign ambassadors entrenchments have been thrown up at San Stefano and at Klitane, so that if the rout that occurred after previous battles should be repeated, the mob of fleeing soldiery can be checked.

The American High School for Girls at Scutari, on the Asia Minor side of the Bosphorus, has sent its scholars of Bulgarian nationality on board one of the British cruisers now at Constantinople, owing to fears for their safety, according to a news agency dispatch from the Turkish capital.

In the meantime diplomatic efforts to end the war are making no progress, and the European press is busy discussing all the aspects of the settlement of difficult questions. Everything tends to show that almost irreconcilable antagonisms will arise over the allocation of Turkish territory. Serbia

BRUSHED OFF BRIDGE, COMMUTER IS SAVED

With Leg and Pelvis Bone Broken He Climbs Trestle from River.

SPENDS HOUR IN WATER

Rushing Train Sends Him Into the Hackensack, and Cries Are Finally Heard by Fishermen.

(By Telegram to The Tribune.)

Passaic, N. J., Nov. 7.—John Hughes, a commuter from New York, after an exciting adventure finally landed in St. Mary's Hospital here to-night with a broken right leg and a fractured pelvis bone. He is also suffering from shock and exposure incident to a fall into the Hackensack River.

Mr. Hughes started for his home, at No. 94 Prospect Place, Rutherford, on an Erie train late this afternoon. For some reason the train stopped at the Hackensack River, and, thinking he was at the depot, Mr. Hughes got off. As he stood, looking about him, the train suddenly started off and left him.

There was nothing for him to do except to walk to Rutherford, two and one-half miles away, and he started across the trestle. He had not gone half the way, when a New York bound train came bearing down upon him. He stepped to one side of the narrow trestle, intending to let the train go by. But as he stood on the end of a cross-tie, the rocking of the bridge, as the cars thundered by, caused him to lose his balance, and he fell twenty feet into the river.

In falling, he struck a beam end, and his leg and pelvis bone were broken. But it was not until he had gone down under the water, come up again, and tried to swim that he realized his injuries. He floundered about in the water, with all his strength trying to get close to the trestle struts.

At last, almost exhausted, he managed to cling to a pile, and hung there, half in the river, for an hour or more. He called weakly, but no help came. With a courage born of desperation, he began to climb up the strut, one leg hanging useless and his body racked with pain from the break in the great bone at his hip line.

Climbing, and stopping every minute to call for assistance, somehow he pulled himself to the top of the trestle. "God knows how I did it," he said to the doctors to-night.

As he hung in a semi-conscious condition, some of his cries were heard by fishermen in the river, and they rowed to the trestle and climbed up and rescued him. They flagged a train on the bridge, and
